A Prayer for Queen & Country

Almighty God, whose son Jesus Christ is the Prince of Peace;
Grant that, as we celebrate the earthly reign of your servant Elizabeth our Queen, so through her example of faith and self-giving, your people may come to know the fullness of your power and glory.
Through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Pentecost - Come Holy Spirit

Ann Rudd

Ann Rudd, Lay Reader, Emeritus at St Nicholas' Church

On Sunday 5 June, the Church celebrates Pentecost - the coming of the Holy Spirit in wind and flame.

Events on that day changed Jesus' disciples from fearful men hiding behind locked doors to bold missionaries preaching the gospel of Christ. When I was young, Pentecost was known as Whit Sunday. The church to which I belonged held a wonderful act of witness on that day. The Whit Procession was led by the choir, the Vicar and wardens and included representatives from every organisation within our church. Everyone dressed in their best outfits or uniforms. There were flowers and banners galore and crowds of spectators as we marched round the parish to the music of the brass band.

Choir & Congregation of St Michael & All Angels marching on Whit Sunday. From 'Looking Back At Wythenshawe' by Jean Greatorex & Sheila Clarke . Willow Publishing, 1984. Used with kind permission.

One banner made a deep impression on me. The words in flowers read clearly 'God Is Love' (1 John 4 v 16) – the simplest yet perhaps most profound definition of what we mean by 'God'. This love is the source of all Being. It is dynamic and creative. There is nothing sentimental or romantic about it. It is a Trinity. Love, the Creator and Sustainer; Love, in the human face of Jesus; and Love, the Spirit, energizing and inspiring. The Spirit calls forth love in return, encouraging all that is good and true.

Our world at present is broken and in despair.

For the last two years, we have endured the Covid pandemic. We have experienced the damaging floods and storms of climate change and seen our rivers and oceans foully polluted.

Not least we have watched daily the horror and tragedy that is Ukraine.

Yet, even amidst this distress and pain, we have also surely perceived Love at work? Neighbour looking out for neighbour, hands reaching out to help, scientists striving in their research to produce effective vaccines, global efforts to reverse the effects of climate change, and a massive response to aid the refugees of Ukraine. Such signs of HOPE!

So let us pray for a fresh outpouring of the Spirit of Love and Compassion to enable us to reflect and play our part in helping to make a better world for all.

Pentecost Prayer

God of power,
may the boldness of your Spirit transform us, may the gentleness of your Spirit lead us, may the gifts of your Spirit be our goal and our strength,
now and always.
Amen.

UKRAINE:

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Coffee Morning Raised £1,650 for the People of Ukraine Appeal

As a community we set out to raise an additional £1,000 to help the people of Ukraine in their desperate fight for survival. People responded magnificently and the Coffee Morning was a great success. We managed to donate, via Christian Aid's Ukraine Appeal, all the proceeds from the event together with Gift Aid, which totalled a marvellous £1,650.

On behalf of the Events Committee, thank you to all the helpers, the bakers, the servers, the washer-uppers and to everyone who helped make the event possible; and of course to to everyone who donated.

The Pattern of Church Services Continues at St Nicholas' Church in Burton

RAMEN

The churchwardens and PCC members of St Nicholas' Church, as well as all who attend services, are most grateful to our lay readers and retired clergy who continue to take services and officiate at weddings and funerals during the period in which we have a vacancy for a vicar in Burton.

Since last Autumn when we have been without a vicar, we have continued to provide Sunday morning worship at 10:00am each week as well as a Wednesday morning Prayer Book communion service at 10:15am. In addition we have maintained Evensong at 6:30pm on the first Sunday of each month and an 8:45am Prayer Book communion services on the third Sunday of each month.

We very much appreciate the efforts of everyone who has been involved in supporting church ministry and associated activities during the vacancy. However, all of this has only been possible with the active support and involvement of retired clergy who, most graciously, have given of their time to come over to Burton to take services and to officiate at weddings, blessing, funerals and baptisms. Amongst the retired ministers who have assisted us and continue to do so, are Revd. Alan Leach from Little Neston and Revd. Ian Urquhart from Heswall. Revd. Gordon Welch, who has only recently retired, has also taken a great number of services since last October. We are extremely grateful to each of them for their help and for their very interesting and enlightened sermons which have been a real joy to experience.

Following the pandemic, people have begun to return to attending church services in person. And, in the pattern of services we have in Burton, such as Family Worship and traditional Prayer Book Holy Communion - there is genuinely something for everyone.

A Jubilee Celebration

Worldwide there are over 4 million members of the Mothers' Union.

At Evensong in May we sang these uplifting words from hymn 365:

"God is Love: and he enfoldethall the world in one embrace; with unfailing grasp he holdethevery child of every race."

In 1952 our Queen ascended the throne. In that same year she wrote to grant her royal patronage to the Mothers' Union. Of this we are proud and add our congratulations to her on this, her Platinum Jubilee.

So much has changed in the past 70 years but the Queen's service and support of the Mothers' Union has been constant.

In 2016 Mothers' Union celebrated its 140th anniversary. At a special service held to mark the occasion, Archbishop Welby said:

"Your long history tells us that circumstances may change, but the needs of human beings in households and families do not."

Patron of Mothers' Union

At our April meeting some of us browsed through our Branch Scrap Books and pictures, going back over 50 years of Mothers' Union in Burton. Others made paper flowers to help decorate the church for the Jubilee celebrations. Well done to the young people from TBY for taking on the initiative of displaying the flowers.

Looking Ahead

On Wednesday, 15 June at 2:00pm Ann Rudd has kindly invited Mothers' Union members to a Garden Afternoon at 'Hafod'

Another Busy Term!

It has been a busy start to the term at Bishop Wilson Primary. Thank you to everyone who took part in the Easter bonnet parade on the first day back. What a talented group of children and parents we have! Creativity is the Christian value that we have been thinking about in school recently so the bonnets linked very nicely.

A fire crew brought their engine to school and Robins joined pre-school to go out and see the engine. They had a fabulous morning learning about fire engines. Everyone got to sit in the fire engine; look at the different equipment; and even try on a uniform. On a couple of children, it looked like the uniform was standing up all by itself as they could hardly be seen underneath. They also got to help hold the hose while it sprayed water over the car park and even Miss Gabriel was able to have a turn.

I was lucky enough to join Robins for forest school on what turned out to be a wonderfully sunny afternoon. The children had a fabulous time hunting for plants, making Andy Galsworthy style art on the field and rounding off the afternoon with hot chocolate or juice.

Eagles are working very hard at the moment and particularly year 6 as we approach SATS. They have begun work on a new topic about World War 2. Owls have been finding out about local heroes and about Bishop Wilson and the Congreve family.

We have also been fortunate enough to receive some digital microscopes on loan from the Royal Microscopic Society for which we are very grateful. This will allow us to look at things under the microscope through our interactive whiteboards. I am very interested to find out what the children will be looking at and what they will find out.

Tales From

At the time of writing it's now May and we're seeing the rising cost of living impact at the food bank. The number of visits to the Wirral food bank is up 18% over March's number i.e. in only two months. The longer-term trend also hit the news recently with Trussell Trust reporting that affiliated food banks across the UK delivered more than 2 million food parcels in the year to the end of March (2.1 million) for the first time outside the pandemic years. However this is a trend spanning several years.

To some extent we're not seeing the national level of increase in food parcels (11% since 2019–20 and 31% since 2018–19) in the North West (12% and 0% respectively). There are two reasons proposed for this. One is that the North West had already been hit hard in the past and the rest of the country is 'catching up' and there's some evidence for this. All regions now have about the same ratio of food parcels to population. The other is that in Wirral and Liverpool we see a lot of community kitchens and social supermarkets that are also providing food.

The food bank's aim has always been to provide emergency food and to offer clients help to remove the reason for needing the food bank. However, there has recently been an increasing number of clients where there is no 'temporary problem' (e.g. debt or job loss where a new job can be found). Instead, there is the permanent problem and the national cost of living has outstripped the various safety nets like the national living wage and state benefits. This is very disturbing since it means that increasingly the food bank will be a permanent source of help with food and energy. The food bank's trustees and management are considering how to deal with this, and Trussell Trust is lobbying for benefits to increase in line with inflation (a 7% increase) so that everyone can afford the essentials.

As always, many thanks to those who support the Foodbank with food and financial donations which make all the difference to so many people.

Memories of the Queen's Coronation in 1953

John Roe

In 1953 Burton village was a much smaller place than as we know it today, and only a few of the post war bungalows had been built – two at the far end of Dunstan Lane, and one on Neston Road. Most of the children attending the school lived in Puddington where there were many more agricultural workers in tied cottages as well as some temporary residents in the 'Home Farm Camp' Nissan huts in Chapel House Lane..

There was of course a school holiday on the day and for local residents the Gladstone Village Hall was at the centre of village celebrations.

At this time the drive in ramp was almost new having been cut with spades, picks, and shovels. Earth removal involved a tractor and trailer and the difficult part had been the loading and removal of one huge pebble-like boulder which was said to be well in excess of one ton.

The Committee had hired three nine inch televisions [black and white only] which were put in the Hall corners, and the original wooden seats arranged around them. The whole of the BBC coronation transmission was shown, and villagers were free to come and go, viewing as their daily work routine allowed. Some of the old folk were there all day although refreshments did not feature until late afternoon.

This was very exciting as there were only three or four households with televisions installed at this time, and a few houses still did not have electricity.

Flags were flown at the Church, School, and GVH, and any householder who had flags hung them out of the bedroom windows.

There was also some improvisation such as my mother's red, white, and blue rag pendants stitched onto a tape which reached from the front bedroom window down to the front garden fence, and back up to next door's front bedroom window.

There were coloured picture posters in four of the five shop windows and some house windows displayed magazine cover coronation pictures especially produced for this purpose.

There were salad, cheese and tomato, and meat paste sandwiches, jelly and blancmange followed by an iced celebration cake with red white and blue decoration. We drank orange squash from coronation mugs which we took home afterwards.

We had some sports races for children, but I do not remember any parents' races on this occasion.

Later there was a sit down tea for the older grown ups in the GVH. The televisions had gone and the long trestle tables had been set up by 'strong men', and the younger ladies waited upon 'their seniors'. Vicar Tyndale presided and cut their cake.

By today's standards these celebrations would be judged 'frugal and drab' with some food and clothing rationing still in force, and post war austerity still remembered. Nevertheless, it was a most joyful, happy, and memorable occasion.

In the afternoon there were school teaparties held at whichever school you attended. 'Burton Church of England Endowed School', as it was then called had not long become a junior school only, Mr H Kempton having been the recently appointed headmaster.

By Order of the Village of Burton

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO

A JUBILEE PICNIC

Come and join us in celebrating this Village community event. The bar will be open for refreshments but we ask that everyone bring their own food

Some tables and chairs may be available – but we suggest you bring your own. The event starts at midday but set-up on the field is open from 10am

Regal Fancy dress for our littlest villagers is optional - prizes for the best King, Queen, Prince or Princess

INFORMATION

Photos of Burton: we are hoping to have a digital slideshow featuring pictures of the village, the people and the events in Burton over the years. If you have any photos that you would like to share — either digital or as a photographic print— please contact Nigel via email at nefgriffiths@googlemail.com.

Car Park: Disabled Parking will be available at Gladstone Village Hall but otherwise parking is limited. We ask that, if possible, you only drop off at the Hall and utilise the carpark at Bishop Wilson School who have kindly allowed us to offer their car park for the day. Please note: All cars parked will be at your own risk. No attendant will be at either car park

Timings: We are starting the picnic at midday and it will have events running until approximately 4/5pm. The event is free, although we will be asking for donations for tea, coffee, face painting etc. All money raised will be donated to Charity

What will be there? This isn't just a picnic!! We will have live music, a photographic celebration of Burton, a village sing-a-long, a scroll to sign for the Queen, a kid's v adult's sports day, face painting, messy church craft activities — and a few surprises! We hope there is something for everyone from our littlest to our most senior!

What do I need to bring? Yourselves!! Your picnic food, table, chairs and a gazebo if you want. You can set up anytime from 10am that morning. The bar will be open – and amongst the drinks will be our Jubilee Celebration Pimms on offer.

I have questions: If you require any more information or would like to join our merry band of volunteers, please contact either

BURTON MERE WETLANDS The Reserve is Very Much Alive

Spring has sprung and the reserve is alive with the squawking and squabbling of gulls, melodies of warblers and swathes of green as the trees come into leaf. It's a busy time of year in nature and especially for us on the reserve!

After a frantic period of preparation for the breeding season, our avocets have settled in on their nests with chicks beginning to hatch. It's wonderful to see the marsh harriers have returned to their nesting site in our reedbed again this year, performing food passes in the sky as they begin to tend to the young in their nests.

Walking around it's easy to tune into the many bird songs present, with the loud bursts from Cetti's warblers bouncing around on the Reedbed trail and the bubbling, gargling noises from our nesting little egrets up in the treetops. Brown hares are racing across the fields adjoining the Farmland trail and we're eagerly awaiting more sightings of spoonbills to see if they attempt to breed on the reserve this year.

We celebrated International Dawn Chorus Day with a very successful dawn chorus walk, where the forecast rain held off for the majority and the coffee back at the visitor centre was warmly welcomed after the 5am start! We've also welcomed back many visitors over the bank holidays; it's been brilliant to be able to remove our remaining Covid 19 restrictions, open the visitor centre doors wide and allow free flow around once again.

For those visiting, there's been some fantastic seasonal highlights with a female long-tailed duck, more usually found on the sea and coast, residing on Bridge Pool for several weeks, two visits from little gulls and plenty of migrating sandpipers including wood sandpiper, green sandpiper, and common sandpiper.

Looking ahead, as more chicks hatch and the flora around the reserve matures, we welcome back dragonflies, damselflies and butterflies. It won't be long until the small, but beautiful purple hairstreak butterflies emerge. On a warm, sunny day it's fun to see if you can spot them out on the oaks close to the visitor centre. Along the trails look out for the delicate orchids that are scattered around including bee, southern marsh and pyramidal orchids.

Green shoots are starting to appear again out at Neston Reedbed following the devastating fire.. It was a challenging time for our team, both dealing with the aftermath with the police and losing an important part of our wonderful reserve, especially at the beginning of breeding season. The reedbed will regrow this year, but it will take at least a couple of years to re-establish as a suitable home for many of the endangered occupants such as nesting marsh harriers and scarce Cetti's warblers.

We're excited that our café building works will begin at the end of summer. Following our popular 'grab and go' refreshments offer in the visitor centre, this next step will enhance visits with a more established menu, plenty of indoor seating and another fantastic way to support our conservation work.

Keep a lookout on our website for upcoming summer events to take part in: events.rspb.org.uk/deeestuary. For families, our Big Picnic gets the summer off to a flyer over the Jubilee bank holiday weekend, whilst there's always quiz trails available from the welcome team, updated frequently with seasonal themes along with our kids' activity backpacks for hire.

For regular updates, sightings information and news about the reserve, check our website blog at rspb.org.uk/burtonmerewetlands follow us on Facebook and Twitter or call us on 0151 353 2720

Summer Time

The Year Marches On!

The dahlias (left in the ground) survived the winter and 'Avignon', currently in a pot inside the greenhouse, will soon be planted in the garden.

The sweet peas continue to grow on as well as many pots and containers planted with mixed annuals: their flowering is eagerly awaited.

The twisted hazel (Harry Lauder's Walking Stick) underwent a severe pruning. Despite this, masses of catkins appeared on the remaining branches.

The lilacs, pale mauve and a double white, are beautiful. Their perfume fills the garden.

Clematis,
Pamela

Nelly Moser were so pretty.

Although wonderful.

the rhododendrons soon faded, apart from a small, newly planted white.

At the moment it is not certain whether or not there are 'tenants' in the bird box.

There are gold/green finches, blackbirds, nuthatch, blue/great and sometimes long-tailed tits. Robbie Robin is always seen.

Tasks to be getting on with:

- Make sure pots and containers are well watered
- As ever, keep on top of the weeding
- Make time to sit and enjoy the garden.

Happy Gardening
